

EXHIBITION
17.01.24
29.09.24

Sans titre (~~DEMAIN EST ANNULÉ...~~)
© Rero & Galerie Backslash.
Courtesy climate scientist
Ed Hawkins

~~DEMAIN EST ANNULÉ...~~ ~~[TOMORROW IS CANCELED...]~~ Art and views on moderation

The challenge of the century. As we become conscious of the fragility of our planet and the fact that inaction is no longer an option, it is time to search individually and collectively for tangible solutions. Among them, moderation.

From January 17, the EDF Group Foundation will contribute to the discussion by bringing this multifaceted theme to the sensitive attention of contemporary artists. The exhibition "~~Demain est annulé...~~, de l'art et des regards sur la sobriété" [~~Tomorrow is Canceled~~]...Art and views on moderation] sets out to explore some of the paths to a sustainable world.

Open to all audiences, this new exhibition, put together by a group of scientific and artistic curators, extends across the 550 square meters of a renovated space. Installations, photographs, videos, paintings and music...23 artists offer a dreamlike and at times critical journey, which, far from being prescriptive, provides food for thought about our relationship to energy conservation.

The visitor will be able to understand the already visible effects of climate change and explore the different ways to address them.

Is it possible to dream together of a more moderate world? Can this moderation bring about a more harmonious and just society? Can it help individuals reconnect with others and with nature? Can technical innovation serve social, political and ecological progress? What are the new paths that need to be explored?

Visitors are free to follow their emotions, to question themselves and to take action.

“Providing substance for the eyes and for the mind. Providing substance for the eyes, and therefore, for the mind. With “Demain est annulé...,” the Fondation aims to make visitors confront works that connect art and science in an effort to stimulate critical thinking and broaden the discussions that contribute to the advancement of our societies.”

Alexandre Perra,
Executive Director of the EDF Group Foundation

Leandro Erlich, Pulled by the roots, 2015 © Leandro Erlich Studio

THE ARTISTS IN THE EXHIBITION

Rita ALAOUI
David ANCELIN
Bianca ARGIMON
ART ORIENTÉ OBJET
Joachim BANDAUI
Neil BELOUFA
Chloé BENSANEL
Hicham BERRADA
Léa COLLET
Dominique DALCAN
Odonchimeg DAVAADORJ
Leandro ERLICH
Gabriele GALIMBERTI
Mierle LADERMAN UKELES
Franck LUNDANGI
Evelyn PULTARA
Philippe RAHM
RERO
Jordan ROGER
Marika SCHUURMAN
Moffat TAKADIWA
Jisoo YOO

EXPERTS TO DISCOVER ON VIDEO

Dominique Bourg, Philosopher
François Jarrige, Historian
Magalie Reghezza-Zitt, Geographer
Yamina Saheb, Researcher

COLLECTIVE CURATORSHIP

Nathalie Bazoche, Head of Cultural Development at the EDF Group Foundation
Dominique Bourg, Philosopher
Patrice Chazottes, Director of the Association
Clermont-Ferrand Massif Central 2028

Marike Schuurman
City-sleepers, 2008
© Marike Schuurman
Adagp, Paris, 2024

ABOUT THE EDF GROUP FOUNDATION

Let's light up the futures

In a world where too many people struggle to find their place in society, the EDF Group Foundation acts for equal opportunities. It opens doors for those who want to empower themselves and helps them unleash their potential. It supports impactful public interest projects in France and abroad, creating value and a positive dynamic for society and for the various beneficiaries:

- By supporting the social and professional integration of challenged youth and adults through education and training: assisting with orientation, developing vocations, remobilizing and promoting access to training and employment, and promoting access to international education thanks to electricity;
- By encouraging self-sufficiency through the development of critical thinking and judgment via exposure to art and culture. It organizes free contemporary art exhibitions held both at the Espace Fondation EDF in Paris and elsewhere to engage young people and the general public on social issues;
- By taking action to develop responsible behavior in support of a fair transition: sustaining eco-citizen initiatives in France and around the world, by staying as close as possible to the populations.

The EDF Group Foundation has four founding members: EDF SA, EDF Renouvelables, Enedis and Dalkia.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

Fondation groupe EDF
6, rue Récamier - 75007 Paris
M° Sèvres-Babylone
Free admission from Tuesday to Sunday
on reservation
12 pm – 7 pm (except holidays)
+33 (0)1 40 42 35 35

PRESS CONTACTS

Pierre Laporte Communication
Camille Brulé
Laurent Jourden
camille@pierre-laporte.com
+33 (0)1 45 23 14 14
+33 (0)6 49 77 27 47

fondation.edf.com

